5. PROPRIETARY RIGHTS

"Money Laundering" is the process by which individuals attempt to conceal the origin and ownership of proceeds of illegal activity. Generally, money laundering involves any financial transaction: Using funds derived from criminal activity and/ or Conducted to facilitate or conceal criminal activity.

Money laundering activity is highly regulated by global and international legislation; therefore, the 18 is strongly advised to implement AML Code of practice to avoid any legal procedures and sanctions in the future.

St. Vincent and the Grenadines AML and Countering Financing of Terrorism Act determine "Customer Due Diligence" (CDD) requirements. The scope and code of practice for conducting CDD can be found in the AML identity verification code of practice guide, published by the Financial Services Authority in St. Vincent and the Grenadines, which the Company strictly follows.

The main risk of Money Laundering by criminal elements through the company is the exploitation of the deposit/withdraws procedures made available by the Company, and the opportunity to present to law enforcement and tax entities that the source of the funds coming from the Company, is profit made in the Forex Markets.

To avoid such abuse of the Company's services by its unlawful clients, the rule of thumb is not to allow the transfer of funds between different entities. For example: One cannot deposit from a company he owns to his personal trading account, and vice versa. One cannot get deposits from his brother/ mother/ other relative, bank account; unless that relative joins the trading account (signs the trader agreement). Cash deposits to the Company's account by traders should be forbidden. If such a deposit did occur, then in case of a withdrawal request, the trader will need to supply bank account details of the Person who made the cash deposit, with a written proof of the account details (check, credit card etc.). A client cannot transfer funds between trading accounts that not all of them are under his name.
